Rev. J. F. Jenness went to Berkeley yesterday to attend a funeral.

Avery B. Kennedy has gone to San Luis Obispo to attend the Polytechnic school there.

Dr. Mark Hopkins of San Francisco, was shaking hands with Campbell friends yesterday.

Dunham & Hartmann have the contract for a small cottage on the Kifer road near Santa Clara.

W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. A. G. Williams on Wednesday afternoon, at three o'clock.

Assemblyman Geo. S. Walker of Los Gatos, has been appointed assistant postmaster in San Jose. Here's our ☞ George.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Hanger are visiting Los Angeles and other Southern California points, in company with Eastern relatives.

J. D. Hanscom of Hamilton precinct has been appointed on the Democratic county central committee by chairman John Roll.

The J. C. Ainsley Packing Co. are packing some fancy prunes for export trade. They are being put up in 25-pound boxes and a choice lot of prunes they are.

F. O. Putnam has a brand new delivery wagon. It is a covered affair, with doors, similar to the ones used in cities. It is well painted and lettered and presents a neat appearance.

THE CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS has been well received by our friends. Let us suggest that the paper would greatly please your Eastern friends. Subscribe for a copy and let them know how Campbell is prospering.

While the heavy rains came at an unprecedented time, yet it was fortunate that there was an extremely favorable drying season preceding, making it possible to get the greater part of the prunes in the bins. And the grower and packer had sufficient warning to see that their trays were well stacked. Never in the history of our community has the creek run with water in September.

George E. Booker, of Arabella Heights, reports 6.10 inches of rainfall there during the recent storm. He also states that a portion of the county road, from Saratoga to the summit, was washed away and that the grape crop was partly damaged, but not to any great extent. The wind played havoc with many of the apples. They were in many instances blown to the ground.—Mercury.

The Interurban electric road is making splendid progress now that the rain is over. Rails are laid to the Meridian road and the crew is now working along Hamilton avenue—1½ miles from Campbell. At the present rate of speed the rails should be laid to this place by the last of next week, as the remainder of the distance the track is on the side of the road and the work should progress even more rapidly, if such a thing were possible. Construction cars have been running along the line already. As has already been said, the class of work being done is superior to the work done on the other line, which is saying a great deal, but Mr. Newman was right when he said that this cut-off route would be the finest road in this part of the State and pass through the very prettiest section. The town of Campbell will soon be a bustling place. The traction engine will soon be at work on Railroad avenue. We have in our show window three views of the engine at work and a view of the working crew.

CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Co-operation among producers is an old story in California, and one that is lengthening and strengthening with the passing years. But co-operation among consumers is more recent and less generally appreciated. In its early s ages it was attended by many failures and disappointments, and yet it persisted. The sessions of the Pacific coast co-operative union, annually held at Oakland, find the movement a little s ronger each year. There are now fifty-two local stores scattered throughout the state, with a wholesale house in San Francisco at their head.

The time is now come when people are beginning to ask, "How did the Rochdale movement in California begin? Who started it and what was the outcome of the original effort?" It began seven years ago, at a small village in the San Joaquin valley, and the start was even humbler than that of the English weavers. The name of the village is Dos Palos. The original capital consisted of $10 in cash and $14 in produce. At the end of six months an inventory showed: Fixtures and building, $100; merchandise and cash on hand, $559; total, $659. At the end of another six months the capital had grown considerably, and a dividend of $100 was divided among the stockholders. At the end of thirty months the cash on hand amounted to $1,061; merchandise, $3,756; fixtures and building, $557.22; bills receivable, $1,005.60; total, $6,379.82. The enterprise was then well established, and has continued to expand ever since. The capital on the first of January was $20,000, and the gain in business larger in proportion than the increase in capital. Having learned the secret of co-operation, the Dos Palos settlers began to expand it in other directions. In 1902 they added a furniture and undertaking department to their store, and opened a lumber and fuel yard.

An example of another kind is the institution known as the Los Angeles co-operators. This was strong to begin with, but gets stronger all the time. It started with a considerable capital, as was to be expected in a community as large as Los Angeles It does a monthly business of about $8,000, which is constantly increasing. In addition to the large parent store, it now has two good-sized branches in different parts of the city. This company has developed a plan which makes it in effect a mammoth department store. In addition to its large grocery business, conducted in its own stores, it has arrangements with dealers in every line, from the haberdasher to the agricultural implement man. By throwing the trade of its 1,500 members to the "associated stores" it obtains discounts ranging from five to fifteen per cent of all they buy. This goes to swell the profits of the co-operative stockholders.—October Out West.

Professor Henri Poincare, the eminent French mathemetical astronomer, editor of the Bulletin Astronomique, and member of the institute of France, has recently been visiting the Lick observatory.

Professor H. H. Turner, director of the Observatory of Oxford university and president of the Royal Astronomical society, is spending three or four days on Mount Hamilton as the guest of Director Campbell. Professors Turner and Campbell are to deliver the two addresses on astrophysics at the St. Louis congress of arts and science next week.

Professor Picard, member of the institute of France, spent Monday and Tuesday on Mount Hamilton.

Professors Perrine and Aitken of the Lick observatory staff have left for St. Louis to deliver addresses in the astronomical section of the congress, the former on solar eclipse problems, and the latter on double stars.—Mercury.

The Santa Clara Journal suggests that the delinquent tax lists of the various counties should be seggregated and the property of each township published in a paper of the townshib wherein the property is located. As a matter of publicity to the people directly interested, this is a reasonable proposition but after all it is base treason. Just consider for a moment how this would cut into the thick, buttered slices of the papers that always hurrah for the party in control, right or wrong, while, on the other hand, it would not give the awarding official a chance to punish the newspaper editors who do not agree with him politically or otherwise. Mr. Journal, out upon such base treason to the powers that be, custom, precedent and all that is high and holy in the gilt-edged rascality of the past and present.—Boulder Creek Echo.

The democrats have honored two Los Gatos gentlemen with nominations to high and responsible positions, aud both will receive a greater support than that which their own party could give them. W. H. B. Trantham, one of the editors and proprietors of our esteemed contemporary, the News, received the nomination for state senator, and D. M. Burnett, one of the brightest lawyers of the younger regime, was nominated for the short term for superior judge. Los Gatos is naturally a republican town, and will roll up a big majority for Roosevelt and Fairbanks, but it would not be surprising if these gentlemen would carry the town by a fair majority. There are always independent voters enough to carry a local issue.—Los Gatos Mail.

C. H. Rubell, of Hollister, was here visiting his son, William, assistant at the depot, last Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Rubell is now principal of the flourishing public school at Campbell, and in his department has forty-six scholars. He states that the school is making fine progress, with a large attendance of scholars and a very efficient corps of teachers.—Mayfield Republican.

The Santa Cruz Surf has a very nice article on the Big Basin, showing a large half-tone picture of the "Father" of the redwood forest. Clustered at the base of the tree are a large number of the State Board of Trade excursionists, the picture being taken by artist A. P. Hill at the time of the excursion in August.

JUST THINK ABOUT IT.

The Railroads, Bankers and Business Men to Help the Prune Growers.

Surely the latter days must be upon us—when the lion and the lamb lie down together.

At a recent meeting of the Merchants Association, fruit packers, railroad men, and San Jose real estate dealers—it was actually proposed to help the poor orchardist dispose of his prunes which have recently been forced down to the lowest market price known to the industry, namely 1¼ cent per pound, or $25 per dry ton averaging 80 to the pound.

It was stated by Ralph Hersey, a packer, that as the orchardist was getting less than one-half the legitimate price for prunes he would no doubt cut his expenses 50 per cent, which would take much money out of circulation.

Evidently some one is beginning to feel the squeeze besides the fruit grower. Now keep your eye on him and see how he behaves.

Col. Hersey, packer, thought the grower would now be forced to adopt some of the plans he had suggested for co-operation.

Poor fellow! He may organize and harmonize himself in a unit and then the packer and the banker will put their yoke of burden upon him and lead him at will. Why don't the packer organize and hold the prices up?

W. V. Dinsmore, real estate, thought two things were necessary—first lower prices (which we now have) and then advertise the prune in the east.

J. B. McMahill, secretary Chamber of Commerce for the railroad, V. A. Scheller, attorney, and W. C. Andrews, merchant, thought the railroad plan to charge five cents per hundred pounds on all fruits shipped east was the right thing.

That seems to us the same old plan, the lion eats the lamb and then both lie down together. Now would it not be a safer thing to ask the S. P. railroad to deduct five per cent from its already heavy rate and the merchant, the packer, the real estate man, the banker and all the other middle men to go down in their pockets for a liberal subscription towards an advertising fund instead of tacking it on to the price of fruit?

The orchardist is standing his loss in prices because of the packers' lack of organization and unity in holding prices, without a whimper. Now let the others interested in the sale of fruits curtail on their lavish entertainment of visitors, etc., and put a few dollars where it will show their good will as well as good business judgment.

We do not believe the fruit grower will take kindly to this indirect way of taxing their product to help the larger flow of cash into the pockets of others.

If the business interests see any good in this advertising scheme let them dig up for it.

The announcement of reduction in rates of postage between this and other countries is made by Postmaster-General Payne, the reduction to be accomplished through the delegates to the International Postal union, which is to convene in Rome in the near future. That negotiations on the subject have passed to a most satisfactory stage is evident from the preconvention announcement of the postmaster-general, concurred in by the London press.

The plan is for a reduction from the prevailing rate of five cents per half ounce to two cents, and the delegates from Germany have added their adhesion to the suggestion. The opposing voice is from France, which is now charging at the rate of three cents for carrying home letters, and cannot see her way to the reduction of foreign matter. But with the United States, Germany and England, the three counties most directly interested, because of the larger volume of foreign correspondence, the best results are to be expected.—San Jose Herald.

LET us have that road to Big Basin. The Sempervirens Club should be encouraged. An electric road to this great park is the thing next in order after the road. The proposition now is to build the road from Saratoga in as direct a line as it can be done. That place is within ten miles on a direct line with the Big Basin, and the county of Santa Clara will build a road to the summit or perfect the Saratoga grade so that it is easy of access, provided the state will build the road across the ridge. This makes a distance of seven miles that will have to be constructed to get an easy and broad highway to connect with the rim of the basin.

REGISTRATION has closed and no doubt many voters have failed to take advantage of their American right. Transfers from one precinct to another can be made up to October 13th.

Grange Holds Interesting Meeting.

There was a very enthusiastic meeting of the Grange last Tuesday night. A number of new members were elected and a large class will be initiated at the next meeting. Arrangements were made for the holding of a Farmers' Institute early in December. A committee consisting of H. E. Brandenburg, J. Bohnett and Mrs. P. W. Keith have the whole matter in charge. The debate upon the question: "Shall Women be Given the Ballot," was discussed with considerable interest and amusement by Joseph Bohnett and Dr. Cooper for the affirmative and C. H. Whitman and Dr. Abbott for the negative. The judges returned as their decision that tho' the negative had carried off the palm for eloquence, the affirmative were awarded the cake for the number of points brought out. It is a matter of interest to note that out of a large houseful of representative men and women, not a single anti-woman's suffragist, even including the two speakers on the negative, could be found.

Will Fruit Growing Continue to be Profitable in California?

The California State Board of Trade continues to issue valuable bulletins calling attention to the advantages this state possesses as a place of residence and from the point of the earning capacity of its lands and resources of all kinds. The latest is a contribution by General N. P. Chipman, president of the board, the subject of which is "Will fruit growing continue to be profitable in California?"

General Chipman answers this question in the affirmative and marshalls so many conclusive facts in support of his position that no one can read the bulletin and fail to be convinced of its entire truth. He calls attention in the first place to the fact that a business has been created in fruit growing which in the year 1902 brought in to the fruit growers of the state between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 and the returns for 1903 were even greater. In addition to the large sum mentioned there was also large returns to the packers, canners, wine dealers, commission men and transportation companies.

A very striking showing is made relative to the extent to which the fruits of California have supplanted the products of the orchards and vineyards of other lands. Two paragraphs on this phase of the matter are particularly interesting. They are given in full, as follows:

"We have practically driven from the American market the French prune and the raisin; we have made large inroads on the importation of oranges, lemons, figs, almonds and walnuts and wine and grape brandy; we are rapidly marketing side by side with the foreign article our preserved fruits and jams in various attractive forms. We are reaching into foreign countries with many of our fruits. The California prune is well known in Germany, England and France."

"Our wines are on the tables of connoisseurs in nearly all civilized countries and in increasing supply and there is no reason why the California raisin should not be as well known in Russia and Germany and England as the Valencia or Malaga. The California apple grower is a successful competitior with the Eastern and Canadian grower at London and Liverpool; the California Bartlett pears are familiar to the lovers of that delicious fruit in England, and a large part of our dried pears, apricots and peaches find a market in Germany and other foreign countries."

Treating another phase General Chipman writes:

"The essayists who treated the subject of the raisin at the Fresno convention (a Fresno raisin grower) counseled no more planting of raisin grapes. Statistics show that in 1898 the raisin crop was as large as it was in 1902 and in ten years the output increased only 10,000 tons. Look at the citrus industry. In 1893 it was 80,797 tons and in 1902 it was 225,668 tons, and the orange grower was never more prosperous. There was an increased shipment of fresh deciduous fruits in 1903 at prices reported satisfactory. Dried fruits moved out very promptly at remunerative prices and nuts at a high price. The Fresno resolution was simply the statement of an existing fact."

The conclusions that General Chipman draws are that California is better prepared to sell and there are more customers to buy California fruits than there were ten years ago. The export trade that is so valuable to France, Italy and Spain is accessible to California and a growing home market is also certain."

Bearing the imprint of the California State Board of Trade the bulletin is well calculated to attract attention and to receive credence in all parts of the world. "To the intending settler in California," writes General Chipman, "I unhesitatingly say come and join the noble army of fruit growers and be not afraid of over-production."

Last Monday was Congregational Day at Stanford. About 250 were present, about 15 going from Campbell. The guests were driven all over the grounds, enjoyed a recital in Memorial chapel and basket lunch at Fraternal hall, after which time the toasts and speeches, so all were filled with lunch and language. Dr. Adams, of the First Congregational church of San Francisco, presided. Every one reported a delightful time.

Sportsmen Active.

The largest deer of the season was shot last week by F. Scott of San Jose, in the northern part of the county just back of Black mountain.

The largest stag that has roamed the hills for years and has defied hundreds of hunters has been identified as the one shot by Scott. The buck was an eight-pointer and weighed 153 pounds.

The open season for fish and game is as follows:

Valley quail, partridge, sage hen, wild duck, rail, curlew, ibis or plover, Oct. 13 to Feb. 15; mountain quail and grouse, Sept. 1 to Feb. 15; doves, Aug. 1 to Feb. 15; male deer, July 15 to Oct. 1; pheasant killing prohibited; trout, April 1 to Nov. 1; steelhead (in tide water), April 1 to Feb. 1; striped bass, July 1 to June 1; black bass, July 1 to Jan. 1; tree squirrel, Aug. 1 to Feb. 1.

No person is allowed to kill any female deer, spotted fawn, antelope, elk or mountain sheep at any time.

It is unlawful to kill or have in your possession in any one day more than 25 quail, partridge, snipe, curlew or ibis, or more than 50 doves, or more than 50 ducks or more than 20 rail.

No one is allowed to kill any birds mentioned above between one hour after sundown or one-half hour before sunrise the following day.

It is unlawful to sell any quail, partridge, grouse, pheasant, sage hen, ibis, plover or deer meat.

No person is allowed to kill more than three deer during any one open season.

No person is allowed to kill any meadow lark unless he is the owner or tenant of the place where such bird is found destroying berries, fruits or crops growing on such premises.

Ditches Overflow.

The rain was so heavy the latter part of last week that the creek has been running continually, something unheard of here in September, so the oldest inhabitants say. At the head of the Page (or Orchard Irrigating Co.) ditch, above Campbell, the headgates had not been put in and as the headgates are below the bed of the creek the water rushed into the ditch, overflowing into the Statler and flooding J. C. Lindemer and others in the vicinity and as the stream was too large for the ditches it overflowed the banks, running down the Los Gatos and Santa Clara road to the school houses. A plank sidewalk over the road gutters had to be temporarily made for a distance of some 75 or 100 feet in order to allow the pupils to get into the school grounds. The drier lot was also flooded, causing some trouble to the fruit trays there. The water was soon controlled, however, and while there was no special damage done, except in a few instances, yet the course of the channel of the creek might have been changed if the flood waters had continued to any great extent.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE State of California, in and for the County of Santa Clara. In the matter of the estate of Henry Van Syckle, deceased.

Eleanor G. Van Syckle, John W. Van Syckle and Henry E. Van Syckle, as the executors of the last will and testament of Henry Van Syckle, deceased, having filed herein their duly verified petition praying for an order of this court authorizing and directing them to borrow the sum of $20,000.00, or such less sum as the court may deem necessary wherewith to pay the debts of said decedent; and to make, execute and deliver a note or notes to evidence said loan and to provide for its repayment with interest, and for the purpose of securing the payment of said loan and interest to mortgage to the lender of said money the following described real property of said estate, namely:

FIRST—All that certain tract of land situated in the county of Butte, State of California, described as follows, to wit: The fractional north one-half of Section 31, in Township 20 North, Range 2 East, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, containing 309.20 acres.

SECOND—All those certain tracts of land situated in the county of Glenn (formerly a part of Colusa county) State of California, described as follows: "A." Beginning at a stake on the south line of Walsh's (now or formerly) Home tract; thence south 89½° west along Walsh's fence (now or formerly) 40 chains to a stake, corner, thence south 39 chains, thence west 2 chains, thence south 9 chains and 70 links to the middle of Stony creek to St. John's (now or formerly) and thence north 66 chains and 50 links to the beginning, containing 236 acres and being a portion of the Capay Rancho.

"B." Commencing in the center of the county road leading from Colusa to Tehama at a point on the north bank of a slough running across said road about one mile north of St. John's house (now or formerly) on Stony creek, thence running northerly up the center of said county road to the south line of land which belonged (now or formerly) to the late R. J. Walsh, thence west along said south line of Walsh to the northeast corner of the land of Van Syckle (on Aug. 16, 1867), thence south along the eastern line of said lands of Van Syckle to the bank of said slough, thence along the north bank of said slough to the place of beginning, containing 200 acres of land.

"C." Commencing at a mound known as the southeast corner of St. John's ranch (Oct. 16th, 1868) on the division line between the lands (now or formerly) of Jones and St. John, running thence due north to the county road north of Stony creek, thence with the said road in a northerly direction to the north margin of a deep slough, running thence with the meanderings of said slough in a westerly direction to the line between the lands (now or formerly) of A. C. St. John and of Henry Van Syckle, thence due south to the middle of Stony creek, thence down the middle of said creek until it intersects the south line (now or formerly) of Jones and St. John, thence along said line to the point of commencement, containing 300 acres of land, more or less.

Excepting from said two parcels of land described as "A" and "B," a strip off the eastern side thereof, owned, occupied and used by the Central Irrigation District, a corporation, as and for a ditch or irrigating canal.

It is ordered that all persons interested in the said estate appear before this court, at the court room, in the court house of the county of Santa Clara, State of California, in the city of San Jose, in said county of Santa Clara, on FRIDAY, THE 11TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1904, at 10 o'clock A. M., then and there to show cause why said prayer of said petition should not be granted and why said money should not be borrowed or said note or notes made, and the above real property mortgaged to secure a loan to said estate of $20,000.00, or such less amount as the court may deem meet wherewith to pay the debts of said decedent, and that this notice be published at least once a week for five consecutive weeks, in the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and issued in said county of Santa Clara, before the said day last above mentioned.

For all further particulars of said petition and the relief therein asked for, reference is hereby made to said petition on file herein.

Dated the 27th day of September, 1904.

HIRAM D. TUTTLE,
Judge of said Superior Court.

Endorsed, filed, Sept. 27, 1904.

HENRY A. PFISTER, Clerk.
By W. DENKER, Deputy.

H. E. WILCOX and D. M. BURNETT, Attorneys for Petitioners.

Rev. Mr. Hall's Lecture.

At the lecture Sunday evening at the Baptist Tabernacle, Rev. Mr. Hall took for his subject, "The Giant With Three Heads." He said in part: "From all classes of society calls are coming for the removal of the liquor traffic. Although it is still here as yet statistics show that of the 27,000,000 of people in the south 17,000,000 are for prohibition, and out of 70,000,000 in the north over 40,000,000 are for prohibition. And the movement has but begun.

"We have to deal in the fight with a giant with three heads, the appetite of the user, the apathy of the good people, and the avarice of the liquor seller.

"There are some things in life more cruel than death. The liquor traffic is at the bottom of all evil, the cause of the unsettled conditions of labor, and through it the poverty of seven-eighths of the working men is due."

Annual Rally Day.

The annual rally of the Congregational Sunday school was observed last Sunday. They had expected to have the colored quartette from the Antioch Baptist church of San Jose, but for some reason they did not come. Mr. Doxsee had arranged a program consisting of songs and recitations. Rev. Windsor spoke on the origin and growth of the Sunday school. Mr. Atkinson gave an illustrated talk and showed pictures of his brother's hospital in Turkey, where this Sunday school send their birthday money. He also showed the picture of the building where the Robert Baikes Sunday school was started. Prof. C. Jacobus, of Springfield, Mass., an old-time friend and teacher of Prof. J. F. Smith, gave an acrostic talk on Elijah. Mrs. Luther delighted all with a solo. The house was very prettily decorated and well filled with Sunday school scholars and their friends.

Ditch Companies Combine.

The Duncan ditch company have purchased the interests of ths Statler ditch company and will make extensive improvements to the latter's ditches.

The country newspaper men have the honor of having two of their number as candidates this year—W. H. B. Trantham of the Los Gatos News, and Fayatte Micheltree of the Palo Altan and the San Jose Ledger, while E. A. Hayes represents the San Jose dailies.

During the recent hot spell the scarcity of ice in San Jose became a source of much worry. Even Dow Dowing of Campbell was kept guessing. Most of the ice consumed around this section is brought from Boca Pollaris on the summit of the Sierra Nevada mountains, near Truckee. The scarcity of ice was first caused by a serious wreck at Sacramento, when a special ice train for San Jose was delayed 48 hours. Shortly after the wreck the burning of snowsheds delayed a fresh supply for 24 hours.

A recent dispatch from Sacramento says: "The state edition of grammar school grammars and geographies became exhausted before noon today and it will be at least two weeks before there will be enough of these books on hand to supply the demand. Sales of school books for July, August and September of this year are more than double those of the three months mentioned in the history of the state." This is a promising sign and California is evidently pushing to the front in school matters.

There was an interesting social event Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mary Van, on Dillon avenue, when a party was given in honor of Mrs. Van, who leaves Friday for an extended visit to Providence, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire. SHOW ME!

To use a common expression, "I'm from Missouri; show me!"

This is just exactly what we want to do—we want to show you the cleverest FALL SHOES that it has ever been our good fortune to look at: the shoes are so artistic that you would be doing yourself the greatest injustice if you overlook us this season. We are doing a big business, in fact more business at times than we can take care of, but ambition knows no limit. We get our business through the superiority—through the merits of our merchandise, and the models we are showing today are so full of fetchiness, character and clever lines that you can't give them the overlook.
